Product Description

Product features:

The vehicle has a unique double-cylinder hydraulic lifting system with greater lifting force and more stability. Dongfeng dump truck adopts high-strength frame with strong bending and torsion resistance to guarantee the overall performance of the vehicle.

The vehicle is equipped with automatic lubrication system, which reduces the wear and tear of parts and prolongs the service life.

The connection structure between its compartment and chassis is firm and can withstand the impact force during heavy load.

Product advantages:

Double-cylinder hydraulic lifting system improves lifting stability and capacity to ensure smooth unloading.

High-strength frame ensures the safety and performance of the vehicle under heavy load.

Automatic lubrication system reduces maintenance cost and improves vehicle reliability.

Firm connection structure enhances the vehicle's ability to carry heavy loads.

Product usage:

Commonly used in heavy-duty long-distance transportation, such as ore transportation from large mines to processing plants.

Transportation of heavy building components in large construction projects.

Can be used to transport bulk cargoes, such as coal and ore, at port terminals.
