Product Description

Product features:

With the function of quick connection to external power supply, when the vehicle is parked in the warehouse, distribution center and other places with power supply, it can be connected to the external power supply to power the refrigeration unit, saving fuel and reducing the operation cost.

The carriages adopt customizable separation design, which can be separated into several independent temperature zones according to the customer's demand to meet the requirements of different cargoes for different temperatures.

The vehicle is installed with reversing image and reversing radar system, which is convenient for the driver to reverse and load/unload goods in narrow space, and improve the operation safety.

Product usage:

When stopping for a long time to load or unload goods in logistics parks, the external power supply reduces fuel consumption and exhaust emissions.

For supermarket distribution centers, pharmaceutical distribution companies to transport a variety of different temperature requirements of goods, such as refrigerated food, frozen meat, room temperature medicines, etc., multi-temperature zone separation to meet the demand.

When cargo loading and unloading operations are carried out in warehouses, stores and other places, the reversing assistance system ensures operational safety and improves operational efficiency.

Product advantages:

External power supply function realizes energy saving and consumption reduction, which meets the dual needs of environmental protection and economy.

can be customized to enhance transportation flexibility and meet diversified customer needs.

Reversing assist system reduces operational risks and protects personnel and cargo.
