PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Foton Fengjing medical ambulance is carefully built according to national standards. It features a simple and beautiful appearance with smooth lines, while the interior space has been optimized for medical use. The spacious cabin with carefully arranged details provides comprehensive support for medical rescue operations. The vehicle is equipped with auxiliary medical equipment to ensure a comfortable environment for patient care and efficient medical procedures.

The exterior design of the Foton G7 ambulance features red or blue reflective strips for high visibility. The driver's door, hood, and tailgate display reflective rescue logos, maintaining a professional appearance. The medical cabin windows and tailgate glass are partially frosted to ensure privacy while allowing natural light penetration.
